

THE DEMAND FOR SPEECHES

Those Who Will Present Argument on the Issues to the People of the State.

Political Programs of Oratory for the Week—How Senator Voorhees Was Received by Some of Chairman Jewett's Clerks.

The State will be well covered during the week by Republican speakers, there being no part of it in which gentlemen of more or less distinction will not be present to talk about the issues that enter into the campaign, from that of protection down to local questions. The working people and soldiers will be particularly addressed, while in certain parts the speakers will be expected, as far as possible, to review all the questions. Among the most interesting meetings will be those of the Hon. Fred Douglass and Miss Anna Dickinson. The former began his series for the week at Winchester, last night, and this evening will be at Danville. He will then return to the eastern part of the State to speak at Knightstown to-morrow evening. Thursday he will be at Spencer, Friday at Muncie, and on Saturday he is to go over to Terre Haute. Miss Dickinson will begin her Indiana meetings at Richmond on Thursday evening. After that her appointments throughout are to be as follows:

September 21—Muncie.
September 22—Indianapolis.
September 23—Terre Haute.
September 24—Lafayette.
September 25—Corydon.
September 26—Danville.
September 27—Logansport.
September 28—Wabash.
October 1—South Bend.
October 2—P. Wayne.

Gen. Lucius Fairchild spoke last night at Wabash. This evening he will be in Delphi, and to-morrow in Tipton. On Friday he will speak at Williamsport. On Saturday he will be at Griffiths to take in order this week, beginning this evening at North Manchester, Milton, Brookville and Williamsport, closing at Woodland and Crawfordsville on Saturday. Charles F. Griffin spoke last night at Kentland, and this evening will be in Knox. Wednesday he is to address the people at Valparaiso, and after that he has no date, until Saturday when he is to speak at Monticello. George Harvey, the workman, has three meetings, one at Pendleton, on the 19th, the others at Rochester the day following, and at Greencastle on the 22d. Beginning Thursday at Clinton, Henry Hall is to go to Rosebud on the next day, and Clay City on Saturday. On the day last named Sidney Hinton is to be at Rockport. John Jarrett has six appointments, beginning with that at last night at Brazil. He will be at Greenwood to-day, New Albany to-morrow, this city on Thursday, the next day at Logansport and on Saturday at Fort Wayne. In order given, beginning to-day in this city, W. K. Keworth, of Iowa, is to visit Tipton, 19th; Noblesville, 20th, and Heltonville, 22d. Gen. Nathan Kimball will not commence his meetings until the 27th, at Logansport. He will then return in the evening of the State, filling appointments until Oct. 12.

The Rev. John H. Lozier was at Wabash last night, and is to speak every evening this week, except Friday, at Plainfield, Knightstown, Spencer and Irvington, in the order given. C. B. Litchman, ex-secretary of the executive board of the Knights of Labor, spoke at Anson last evening, and has for the week five other appointments, as follows: To-day at Lawrenceburg, to-morrow at Laurel, Thursday at Brookville, Friday at Liberty, and Saturday at Connersville. Col. T. H. Nelson will be at Anderson on Friday, and the day before at the Hon. Stanton J. Peelle is to speak at New Castle. Ex-Governor Porter is to be at Pendleton on the 19th, Rockville on the 20th, and Greencastle on the 22d. Eccles Robinson's dates are Columbus, 19th; Zanesville, 20th, and Heltonville, 22d. A. C. Rankin, of Chicago, a representative workingman, is to be at Swiss City to-day, Vincennes to-morrow, Mount Vernon Thursday, New Harmony Friday, and at Evansville on the day following. Gen. George Sheridan's dates are, Wabash to-night, Warsaw to-morrow evening, Peru Thursday, Kokomo Friday, and Lawrenceburg Saturday. Broad A. Smith is to be at Floyd county, and will be there until to-morrow night, after which he goes to Evansville to make two speeches, Thursday and Friday. On Saturday he will be at Rockport. Corporal Tanner is to speak at Danville to-day, Bloomington Saturday. Thomas W. Taylor, of Tennessee, will be at Scottsburg to-day, New Albany, to-morrow, and at Spencer, Thursday. Canoness Friday, and Tall City Saturday. Eugene Tompkins, of Ohio, is to speak at Rushville, Cambridge and Connersville on the 19th, 21st and 22d, in that order named.

Friends of Convict Coy.

The Democratic county central committee, backed by the Democratic Board of County Commissioners, is circulating all kinds of false reports concerning Dr. Theodor Wagner, the present coroner, and candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket. The Commissioners, especially, whose enmity to the Doctor knows no bounds, are making a vigorous fight against him. The trouble is due to the vigor with which he has been bringing the County Jail to justice for its infamous forgeries. It is he who took the initial steps in prosecuting the little boys and others for this great crime. The principal of the Commissioners are giving credit to the fact that the Doctor attempted to deplete the county treasury by presenting extortionate bills. In this connection reports of the County Auditor, attested by the County Commissioners, may be of interest. In 1886 Dr. Rooker, the present Democratic candidate for this office, was coroner, and in the majority of the County were also Democrats. Rooker and Salm being then as now the incumbents. The printed report of the auditor for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1886, shows that Dr. Rooker was allowed for services as coroner $4,893.31. The printed report for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1888, shows that Dr. Wagner presented bills amounting to only $2,735.55. Of this amount the Commissioners have allowed but a few hundred dollars, claiming that the bills were "extortionate." Dr. Wagner has only one answer to make to his defamers. It is this: If it is true that he paid the difference between his amount for 1886, and Dr. Rooker's for 1886 he will dismiss all suits he has pending, and be satisfied.

Did Not Know Senator Voorhees.

From a circumstance that occurred at the Democratic headquarters yesterday it would seem to show that the party's greatest politicians are unknown quantities inside of the political ring. Everything was lively in the committee rooms yesterday when in walked Hon. Daniel W. Voorhees, who, no doubt, anticipated a general rush of clerks, chairman and all in their eagerness to greet him. But the rush did not occur, and not even did a pleasant "good morning" from the distinguished man attract even a hospitable response. Exasperated at being given this cold-shoulder treatment, he ventured to grasp the hand of one of the leading attaches of the office, but before he could explain his position he was greeted with, "Oh yes; just sit down there, my friend, and I will wait on you shortly." Officers, clerks and all succeeded with their business, and Senator Voorhees, sitting not far from the busiest clerk's desk, was forgotten. Rising, finally, he started to leave, probably to seek more welcome quarters, when he was called back by his clerical Democratic friend. "Now, but pardon for keeping you so long," he said, "but what can I do for you?" "Do for me?" replied the Senator. "You can do anything for me. I just dropped in to see how everything was moving." "Oh! That's all, is it? Well, everything is about as it used to be. But I must confess you have the best of me. May I inquire your name?" The reply was sufficient to convince the Democratic clerk present that they had better become acquainted with their "big guns," for they are so few and far between that it won't do to let them waste, while the expression on Senator Voorhees's face, as he left the office, seemed to betray a disgusted Democrat.

Receptions This Week.

Beginning with to-day General Harrison will be occupied more or less with the election, with receiving delegations from Kentucky, including representatives from Louisville and surrounding points. A large number of ladies will accompany the visitors, and special cars have been reserved for accommodation of the excursionists. Upon their arrival in this city a parade will be made through the principal streets, with the local committee as escort. Carriages will be provided for the ladies, and at 4:30 o'clock the entire delegation will be received by General Harrison at University Park. At noon to-day a delegation from Danville, will arrive, and proceed to the park where they will also be received at or near 1:30 o'clock. To-morrow there will be delegations from Grundy and Vigo counties, Elkhart, and LaPorte. On Friday, Dayton, O., and Randolph county, Indiana, will send delegations, all of which will be received at the park if the weather will permit. On the 22d of this month the citizens of Elkhart county have made arrangements to visit the General, and they are making elaborate preparations for their part of the reception. As the next two months will be crowded with visiting delegations, it is hoped that both play and company are deserving of warmest praise. "Held by the Enemy" will doubtless meet with the large patronage it deserves. No one who sees it will be disappointed.

Democratic Attractions.

Congressman Roger Q. Mills, on his way to Texas, will make five speeches in Indiana, opening at Richmond on Thursday afternoon the 20th inst., at Indianapolis the night of the 21st, Brazil the afternoon of the 22d, Terre Haute at night, Vincennes the afternoon of the 23d and St. Louis on the 25th. It is understood that the Congressman will look to his own success, and will return to Indiana in October. The Democratic State committee announces that Judge Thurman will, in the event he comes to this State, speak at the Shelbyville barbeque on Oct. 15, at the Peru barbeque on Oct. 17 and at Brazil on the 20th. The committee is reluctant to abandon its original intention to have the Judge address a meeting in Indianapolis, and is making every effort to accomplish that end, with a promise of success.

Union Veterans' Association.

The Union Veterans' Association held its weekly meeting last night with a large attendance of members, whose enthusiasm, great though it was at the beginning, grows at each succeeding meeting. A camp-fire will be held at Paffin's Hall next Monday night, when W. P. Fishback is to deliver an address. In addition to this there will be short speeches by the members. On the following Monday morning, T. Fincher is to speak to the association. Col. Spahr, of the First Regiment Harrison and Hovey Guards, an organization included in the association, has called a meeting for this evening at the Criminal Court room, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of marching to Tomlinson Hall to take part in the camp-fire of the ex-Union prisoners of war.

That Democratic Regiment.

A meeting of so-called Democratic soldiers was held in the Criminal Court room last night. The door-keeper refused admittance to a Journal reporter, but permitted the Sentinel representative to enter under the guise of an ex-soldier. The former, however, gained admittance, but was not permitted to remain only for a short time. He remained long enough to learn that the hall was only about half filled with a few ex-soldiers and a large number of boys.

It's Dangerous.

Howling Democrat—Yes, sir, we are going to carry Marion county by 500 to 1,000 majority. Republican (in a whisper)—Sh! Sh! Don't talk so loud.

H. D.—Why, what's the matter? Republican—It's dangerous. You remember Coy and Bernhamer were sent to the penitentiary for making Democratic majorities where there were none.

Political Notes.

Rev. Dr. Murphy, of Ottumwa, Ia., is in the city. He says the third party will not count much in the election. Samuel E. Kerechval, of Rockport, was in the city yesterday. The Republicans of his county are in high hopes and work harmoniously. Ex-Senator B. K. Bruce, from Washington, D. C., arrived in the city last night. He was worn with travel, and sought rest immediately on reaching the hotel.

Thomas Chandler, Republican candidate for Congress in the district, will address the Harrison and Morton Railroad men's Club at Paffin's Hall this evening.

It is requested that there be a full meeting of the Harrison Zouaves to-night. The members will be measured for uniforms, and in addition other important business is to be transacted. An organization of Republicans of the South Side has been completed to conduct mass meetings once a week at the Virginia avenue rink. The president is A. J. Joyce, the secretary, J. A. Lehr and the treasurer W. H. Tucker.

Senator Robert B. Sears, of Vermillion county, was at Republican headquarters yesterday, and promised a gain of several hundred in the district for the national and State elections. He is keeping tab of the changes that occur in losing the voting strength of the Democracy. Warden Murdoch, of the Michigan City penitentiary, predicts that the State will give 15,000 votes to the majority if all the convicts vote. He is keeping tab on the changes that occur in losing the voting strength of the Democracy.

Mr. Lucius B. Swift has returned from Washington, where he testified before the Hale committee. Mr. Swift has been ordered to address the Union League Club, of Chicago, on the last Saturday of this month, the 29th inst., upon Grover Cleveland and civil service reform. What Mr. Swift does not know is upon what subject is scarcely of much value, but what he does know is enough to damn the Cleveland administration to everlasting fame.

RECALLING OLD SUFFERINGS.

Ex-Prisoners of War Who Were Brutally Treated in the Southern Prison Pens.

All the delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War are expected to reach the city this morning. There are in all about seventy-five, representing nearly every State and Territory. The National Association is the fountain head of local associations throughout the country, embracing a membership of several thousand survivors. The convention will have some important routine business to transact, but a good deal of the time will be spent in reading reminiscences of prison life in the Southern stockades. The delegates who will compose the convention are all men who went through the most trying experiences of the war. Many of them suffered almost death itself, and as one of the early arrivals said yesterday, "I am surprised that enough of us have lived to hold a convention twenty-five years after the war has closed." One of the principal objects of the convention is to keep alive the memory of mistreatment and suffering they endured. Among the arrivals yesterday was Major William, of Washington, D. C., secretary of the association, and clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia; J. S. Ferguson, of Jefferson City, Mo., a one-armed veteran, now superintendent of the national cemetery and department chaplain of the G. A. R.; A. H. Cowger, of Ellensburg, W. T., and Rufus M. Chamberlin, of Connecticut. General Henry of West Virginia, is also here, and General Powell, of Belleville, Ia., president of the association, will be here this morning. He was an inmate of Libby prison, and while there underwent some very remarkable experiences. The few arrivals yesterday spent the afternoon in going round and meeting old comrades, many of whom they had not seen for years. Gen. A. D. Straight also came down from his farm in Clinton county to be present at the reunion. He was in Libby prison, and while there he was one of those who tunneled his way out, and through harrowing hardships made his way North.

The association will convene in George H. Thomas Post hall, on North Delaware street, this morning at 10 o'clock. There will be two business meetings to-day and two to-morrow. The convention will be the members of the convention will make their headquarters in Assistant Adjutant-General Walker's room, No. 27, on the first floor of the court-house. The event of the convention will be the meeting of the Union Hall to-night. It will be public, and ladies are especially invited to attend. There will be vocal music and speeches embracing reminiscences of prison life by a number of the survivors. Among those who have promised to deliver addresses are General Powell, Rev. C. C. McCabe, chaplain; Major Frank E. Moran, Gen. R. Fortenberry, Philadelphia; General Fawcett, Illinois; Gen. Alexander Shaler, New York; Capt. T. H. McKee, Washington City; Col. G. Davis, Boston; Rev. Mr. Wilson, Rochester, Ind.; Col. A. D. Straight and Major Callahan. In addition to the music and addresses, there will be several recitations by local eloquence. All the old soldiers of the city are expected to be present. The First Regiment of Indiana Cavalry and Morton Guards has decided to attend in a body, and will march from their headquarters to the hall. Seats will be reserved for members of the War Department.

The Association will call on General Harrison

at his home this evening at 8 o'clock. All ex-prisoners of war in the city have been requested to report at George H. Thomas Post hall at 4:30 o'clock. Alleged Offenses. Thomas Gardner was arrested last night on a warrant sworn out by Mary E. Winkler, who alleges that on Sept. 2 Gardner stole a table from her residence. Edward Rice was also arrested, charged with passing counterfeit money in O'Brien's saloon on Washington street.

PUTTING THINGS IN ORDER

The First Day at Indiana's Great Annual Show of Her Bountiful Resources.

All Leading Departments of the Fair Filled with Attractive Objects—A Greater Success than Ever Before Is Promised.

Despite the drizzling rain of yesterday, the exhibitors in the coming State fair were busy at the grounds receiving and arranging their goods. The first day is always devoted to the final work of labeling and the placing in position of the different articles for display, but on the grounds a small crowd of spectators can be seen. The opening of this fair was no exception to the rule. Although the great show has begun, there is sufficient work yet to be done in the way of arranging and cleaning up to keep the exhibitors busy to-day at least. The main building is filled from wall to wall, while upon the grounds every available spot has been assigned, and the exhibitors in machinery and farming implements are clamoring for more space. As it is they have been granted more territory than they have had in any year past, and even in some cases have been compelled to "double-up" and share their apportioned space with some less prompt and hence less fortunate neighbor. The promised success of the fair this year will undoubtedly be the greatest it has ever had. Up to last night Superintendent Lockhart had disposed of privileges to the amount of $3,500, as against $2,250 last year, and not only from this source does great encouragement come, but in every other way. The results indicate the most prosperous season ever yet attempted. There is not only greater interest manifested on the part of the citizens of Indiana, but outside of the State dealers in all kinds of articles, machinery and commodities have applied for space, and in many cases have already entered their goods for display. The management of the present fair is better organized in every way for harmonious and close work. It is more unified, more organized in its procedure than heretofore, and nothing has been left undone which could possibly add to the success of the week without incurring too great an expense.

The main building has been redecorated and cleaned so that to those who remember it of old it seems to have been transformed. The campaign has been of good service in offering to the public exhibitors means of displaying their goods, but in no case has a political choice been manifested. Wherever the likeness of General Harrison is seen, by its side hangs the Union flag.

The women's department, embracing almost the entire upper floor, has grown so rapidly in the last two or three years that it is becoming crowded for space. Over one of the main aisles, general superintendent, hangs a canopy of flags, containing the lithographs of the three presidential candidates with their respective Vice-presidents. It is the highest and the highest of the "Which" After this political greeting, the sight-seer is met by one continual exhibition of fancy work, needle and thread, and the most beautiful and varied of women from Indiana and other States. The interest manifested in this department has also increased with amazing rapidity since last year. Previously it has been a difficult undertaking to secure displays from the ladies of Marion county, but not only this, but other counties responded this year so well that the entry-books were filled to overflowing.

The grounds are devoted, in a sort of jealous way, to the display of clothing, displayed, very appropriately, upon a background of blue satin, while another adopts a more unique plan of advertisement, and in cyclorama style, has arranged a country cottage scene, with life-size human figures in war to imitate the scenes of the Civil War. Another, who has for years been known among our ladies as a dealer in good tea, is on hand with a display a trifle out of the usual run heretofore adopted. It is a display of the most beautiful and varied of his native land, in which fans and parasols abound with great profusion.

The grounds are devoted, as they have hitherto been, to farming machinery, horse and cattle, side-shows and lunch tents. The new amphitheater is filled with eating booths on the lower floor, while scattered here and there are church and private booths, all of which will do a rushing business in the next three or four days. The placing of the heavy machinery in the lower floor, and the removal of the horse and cattle, side-shows and lunch tents, is expected to be in readiness for inspection. The exhibits of sheep and live stock are, in the lower floor, while scattered here and there are church and private booths, all of which will do a rushing business in the next three or four days.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND—"HELD BY THE ENEMY." The Grand Opera-house presents as its attraction for the week of the fair Will Gillette's beautiful play, "Held by the Enemy." The place has been seen here before, where it created, as it has elsewhere, the most favorable impression. The scene is laid in the South during the War of the Rebellion, and the story and action, based upon incidents of the great conflict, afford for the playwright an opportunity that has not been neglected. It is intensely exciting, of continued interest, and altogether one of the most beautiful and enjoyable plays that have been presented to the public for many seasons. There is nothing in it to excite factional prejudices, but on the other hand all this is lost sight of in the pure and sympathetic love story on which the plot hinges. Mr. Gillette is to be congratulated upon the success of his endeavor to present an American play of this character. The company is one of unusual excellence, every part being well cared for by a capable artist.

But an even greater strengthening of the occasion of its last appearance in this city by the addition of Miss Esther Lyon, a young actress of much talent and many personal attractions, who will appear in the play as Rachel McCreary, the daughter of an officer in the Confederate army. Miss Kate Dennison will be remembered for her excellent impersonation of the character of Euphemia McCreary, as well as for many other characters assumed with an equal degree of excellence. Miss Minnie Dugan, as Miss Susan, cannot be better. Of the gentlemen of the cast, Mr. James E. Wilson, as Colonel Prescott, Mr.

PARK THEATRE—EDWIN HANFORD IN "THE SHAMROCK."

Mr. Edwin Hanford, a new star here, began a week's engagement at the Park yesterday in "The Shamrock." In spite of the rain, there were two large audiences, and the performance was of such a character as to cause them to indulge in enthusiastic demonstrations of approval. Mr. Hanford is a young man, with a good stage presence, and excellent voice and dialect, and original methods. He makes much out of the part of Stiel O'More, for which he is well fitted, and his company give him good support. Miss Chandler deserves commendation for clever work as Nellie Rehen, and Miss Nellie Irving's sweet voice was heard to advantage. "The Shamrock" is a lively comedy, which has exciting scenes and fun throughout. The songs were a feature. Mr. Hanford will appear every afternoon and evening during the week.

GUS WILLIAMS AT ENGLISH'S TONIGHT.

Gus Williams and his company did not reach here from Kansas City, in time to give a performance at English's last night, and the popular comedian will begin his engagement to-night with his funny comedy, "Kephler's Fortunes," which will be repeated to-morrow, Wednesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday matinee, and during the rest of the week his other new play, "Squire of Locustville," will be given. In both he introduces new songs, specialties and musical features. Mr. Williams has an unusually good comedy company, and a successful engagement may be predicted, for he is a strong favorite here.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

The well-known Carlsbad Sprudel Salt produced from the Natural Springs of Carlsbad, better than any of the so-called blood purifying remedies.

The cashier of M. Guggenbuhl's Sons, 96 and 98 Franklin Street, one of the largest import houses in the United States, writes under date of June 30, 1888, as follows: "For years I have suffered from abscesses which always formed on the back of my neck, and had to be cut out from time to time to obtain relief. I used all sorts of blood purifiers, but without avail. The Carlsbad Sprudel Salt cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this valuable import. Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder form) is the best blood purifier I have ever used. I have been entirely free from the disease. My complexion cleared, and I have enjoyed good health ever since. I can speak of its wonderful effects as a laxative. Yours very respectfully, L. MEYERS."

Dr. A. L. A. Tobolski in a paper read before the Ninth International Medical Congress, speaks of the genuine imported Carlsbad Sprudel Salt (powder form) as the best blood purifier he has ever used. He speaks of its wonderful effects as a laxative. Yours very respectfully, L. MEYERS."
